

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE POLICIES

SHARE TRADING POLICY

Purpose

This share trading policy sets out the Company's policy regarding the trading in Company securities, which includes shares, options, warrants, debentures and any other security on issue from time to time. This policy is separate from and additional to the legal constraints imposed by the common law, the Corporations Act and ASX Listing Rules.

This policy applies to all Directors and employees of the Company and their associates (including spouses, children, family trusts and family companies) as well as contractors, consultants, advisers and auditors of the Company ("designated officers").

Requirements

It is illegal to trade in the Company's securities while in possession of unpublished price sensitive information concerning the Company. Under the Corporations Act a person with inside information must not, and must not procure another person, to deal in the securities of a body corporate or enter into an agreement to deal in the securities of a body corporate. Inside information is defined in the Corporations Act as information that:

- is not generally available; and
- if generally available, a reasonable person would expect it to have a material effect on the price or value of the securities of the body corporate.

General Prohibition on Insider Trading

All designated officers are prohibited from trading in the Company's securities while in the possession of unpublished price sensitive information concerning the company. In addition, while in possession of unpublished price sensitive information designated officers must not advise others to trade in the Company's securities or communicate the information to another person knowing that the person may use the information to trade in, or procure someone else to trade in, the Company's securities.

Unpublished price sensitive information is information regarding the Company, of which the market is not aware and that a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of the Company's securities, and includes:

- a proposed major acquisition or disposition;
- drill or exploration results;
- a significant business development or a proposed change in the nature of the Company's business;
- details of material contracts that are being negotiated by the Company;
- potential litigation that would have a substantial effect on the Company;
- a proposed change in the share capital structure of the Company;
- a proposed change in the Company's dividend policy; and
- a major change to the Board or senior management.

Restrictions on Short-Term Trading

The Company encourages Directors and employees to adopt a long-term attitude to their investment in the Company's securities. Consequently, Directors and employees may not engage in short-term or speculative trading of the Company's securities.

Permission to Trade

Directors, members of senior management and employees may trade in the Company's securities at other times so long as they are not in possession of any unpublished price sensitive information.

Exceptions

A person may trade in the Company's securities in the following circumstances:

- the Chairman approves the trade by a Director upon the director or Company Secretary satisfying the Chairman that they do not possess unpublished price sensitive information about the company and a failure to trade in the company's securities would result in exceptional circumstances such as financial hardship;
- the Chairman approves the trade by an employee upon the employee satisfying the Chairman that they do not possess unpublished price sensitive information about the company and a failure to trade in the Company's securities would result in exceptional circumstances such as financial hardship;
- trade in a managed securities portfolio where the person is not in a position to influence choices in the portfolio; and
- where the trade results from a dividend reinvestment plan where the person has given ongoing instructions to reinvest dividends.

Notification of Trade in Company Securities

The Company Secretary will maintain a register of all trades and holdings in Company securities by Directors.
